This Makes Younger Women WORSHIP You

A woman doesn't want an insecure, indecisive guy. She's got enough insecurity and indecisiveness in her life already. She needs you to be something else.

Have you ever wondered what is it that makes a woman completely devoted to a man? Not just to sleep with him. But ready to lay down her life for him if he asks her to. Ready to do ANYTHING she thinks will please him. To change her personality, her body, and “shape shift” into whatever he wants so that she completely conforms to his will?

What is it that puts a stunningly beautiful woman utterly under the thumb of an average looking (or even below average looking) man? That makes her view serving you, sexually and emotionally, as her primary pleasure and purpose in life?

It comes down to ONE THING. And if you get this thing... you'll never need to know anything else about women. But before I tell you the ONE THING that puts any beautiful woman totally under your spell, and makes her so compliant that she'll even let you sleep with other women if you want...

You need to hear a story.

It's the story of how Cortez conquered the Aztec Empire... And believe it or not, it explains how to trigger this "devotion" response in women.

When the Spanish conquistador Cortez landed in Mexico, he was the first European to meet the mighty Aztec Empire face to face, and witness its bloody and barbaric practice of human sacrifice firsthand. Cortez and his gang of pirates were outnumbered by the Aztecs 500 to 1. And yet somehow, this small band of adventurers completely overwhelmed the awesome Aztec empire. They plundered the gold and natural resources. They took the finest Aztec women as their war brides. They brought Emperor Montezuma to heel and turned him into a little dog for the Spanish Crown.

Why?

What was it that allowed this tiny band of Spanish pirates to take over an entire empire?

The answer is... the Aztecs believed that Cortez was a god called Quetzalcoatl. In Aztec folklore, Quetzalcoatl was prophesied to appear from a boat traveling from the east. Cortez's boat had come from the east. Quetzalcoatl was described as a white-skinned man with a beard. Cortez was a white man with a beard. And to top it all off, in a bizarre and fateful coincidence, Cortez just happened to appear in Mexico on the traditional birthday of Quetzalcoatl, during the year end of the 52-year cycle of the Aztec calendar.

These strange coincidences made it so that when Cortez arrived in Mexico, the Aztecs were predisposed to view him as a god.... a supernatural force who they had no choice but to bow down to.

Emperor Montezuma and the Aztecs were predisposed to worship Cortez as a god, because they had been programmed by their culture to believe that when the god Quetzalcoatl appeared, he would possess certain qualities.

Well...

Likewise...

Young women are programmed by their culture to believe that when "Mr. Right" shows up, he will also posses certain qualities...

They are culturally programmed to think that when they finally meet “The One”, he will trigger a certain response inside of her.

- Butterflies in her stomach
- Racing heart and elevated blood pressure
- Blushing
- Shortness of breath
- She’ll feel nervous and self-conscious around him, and anxious to win his approval

When you trigger this response inside a woman, she will feel like you must be the “One” and she will worship you like a God, and do anything you ask of her. She will submit to you and yield to you in all things, just as the Aztecs yielded to Cortez.

You see, women don’t want equality. They don’t want a man who’s “Equal” to them.

They want you to be stronger than them in every way, so they can worship you like a God.

They want, and need you to be INDESTRUCTIBLE....

Invincible..

Flawless.

A woman doesn’t want an insecure, indecisive guy. She’s got enough insecurity and indecisiveness in her life already. She needs you to be something else. Something that doesn’t exist. She needs you to be more than human. She doesn't EVER want to see you acting like a little bitch.

You have to be a FULL ON DICTATOR from the very first breath. She has to test you in order to prove that you’re above her, so that she can worship you. You never admit to having a problem, because you’ve got to be god to your woman, and god doesn’t have problems.

This simple “7 word phrase” allows you to totally dominate a woman’s thoughts and get her fantasizing about you....

Her panties will be soaking wet after just a few words. And she won’t even know why.
